TOWN MANAGER OR NOT?

At the special town meeting next Thursday evening, December 17, the townspeople will have an opportunity, long anticipated by some, to express their views on another method of conducting their town's business. It is indeed a question worthy of serious thought by all who have the interest of their town at heart. The fact that the town system has been in use more than 20 years by some Maine towns and cities indicates that it must have some merits, so it is up to the voters next week to make a fair decision as to whether they think that use of the plan in Bethel will improve the general conduct of the town's business.

It is understood that the common practice, under the enabling act as passed by the legislature several years ago, is for the town manager to act as purchasing agent, collector of the poor, treasurer, collector, road commissioner and town clerk. In many instances the clerk, elected by the town at each annual meeting, has full time duties in the town office as bookkeeper and to keep the office open regular hours. In this case the clerk may receive a salary for all duties performed and fees usually going to the clerk are received by the town.

Five selectmen are usually elected in towns having town managers, and it is not unusual for them to be chosen as assessors also. In towns like Bethel, they are likely to serve as selectmen without pay, as do members of our school committee. The selectmen meet at regular intervals with the manager, who at all times carries on his duties under their supervision. The manager is hired by the selectmen, and his duties in the town may be terminated at any time by him or the board of selectmen.

Those in favor of the new way point to increased efficiency gained by having all town projects under one head. Economy is not emphasized by those favoring a change, although it might be possible to get along under the $7,000 expected to be necessary for officers' salaries this year. Assuming that the selectmen under a new set-up serve without pay, and assuming that it cost $1,000 for assessors' work in 1952 (which may be far from correct), $5,421.26 was spent last year for salaries of positions customarily included in manager's duties.

If the Bethel Village Corporation should be discontinued, as assumed by some supporters of the change, nearly $500 more might be figured as available for salaries in town management.

Opposition to the new idea may be expected from supporters of present incumbents who would be replaced in the change-over. The town officials in this group are to be commended for general efficiency and so opposition from this source may have considerable weight.

There is little excuse for neglecting ones duty in attending the meeting on the evening of December 17. There can be no good reason why we should not consider seriously both sides of this important matter, go to the meeting, listen and take part in the discussion, and vote as we think best.

Mrs. F. L. Edwards, Mrs. A. Van Den Kerkhof, Mrs. Harry Jordan and Miss Beatrice Brown were in Portland several days last week. Mundt-Allen Post and Unit, American Legion and Auxiliary, entertained the Oxford County Council at the Legion Home Tuesday evening. Supper was served by the Auxiliary to about 100. The proceeds will be used toward sending a local girl to Girls' State. Rev. Charles Pendleton spoke on Little League Baseball.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE IN THIRD WEEK

"Use the Christmas Seals you buy to support the work of the Maine Tuberculosis Association," was the advice of Mrs. Clayton Fossett, Christmas Seal Chairman for Bethel, as the annual campaign for funds to combat tuberculosis entered its third week.

Now is the time to mail Christmas cards and gifts for delivery before the holidays and the Christmas Seals will add a colorful decoration as well as help make it possible to continue the fight against tuberculosis and add to the protection of everyone's health.

Christmas Seals have become a part of the American Christmas tradition and help make possible one of the greatest gifts of all—good health.

It is pointed out that there are three major activities of the tuberculosis association which must be carried out. They are: To find every case of tuberculosis; to help make readily available to all patients the best modern equipment; and to build up resistance of people to tuberculosis infection. These things the Christmas Seals help do.

Mrs. Fossett reported total contributions to date from Bethel of $206.49 as against the final total of $311.40 in last year's campaign.

Beryl Mining Closes Season in This Area

Mining operations of Beryllium Development, Inc., at the Scotty Mine on Plumbago Mountain, Newry, closed for the season last month. During the past season the company conducted operations on two sites in Newry and one in Greenwood.

According to Stanley Feltner, who has been in charge of the company's work in this area for several months, the exploratory work here has shown promising results. However the small percentages of ore obtained are not encouraging from the profit angle at the present costs and prices. The industry now obtains ore from South American mines.

The Beryllium Corporation, parent company of Beryllium Development, Inc., was a pioneer in the development of beryllium copper, cooperating with users to establish standard specifications and refine the commercial processing of the alloys. It is a highly integrated enterprise, its activities covering mining of beryl ore, ore reduction, alloying, ingot-making, foundry operations, rolling, forging, machining, and the manufacture of non-sparking tools. The various alloys find increasing use in the manufacture of household appliances, office and industrial equipment of many kinds.

About 27 were employed in this locality by the company in this year's work. Plans for another season's operations have not been announced, although they are interested in all opportunities for further exploration of local prospects.

Mrs. Marcus also sang the Christmas carol, "O Christmas Tree." After the program a Christmas tree was enjoyed with exchange of presents.

The next meeting will be on January 13 at the home of Sybil Nary.

LARGER AUDIENCE AT SECOND MANAGER MEETING

Some 75 citizens gathered at Odeon Hall last Thursday night for a second open meeting for discussion of the advisability of the adoption of the town manager form of government by the town of Bethel. The somewhat larger attendance than was present at the previous meeting on November 12 was probably due to the expectation of listening to a presentation of the advantages of both forms of town government presented by outside speakers in favor of each form.

As it was not possible for the out-of-town speakers to be present, Selectman John H. Carter agreed at the last minute to talk on the present condition of town affairs. His talk gave a good idea of the year's business and an insight of the duties and problems encountered by town officials.

The meeting was in charge of Harold G. Bennett, chairman of the committee which was appointed by the moderator last March to investigate and report on the question of town manager government at a special town meeting. He summarized the matters explained at the previous meeting, noting that towns using the enabling act for adoption of the manager method may discontinue the plan by vote at any meeting. He said that the committee had not yet voted to determine its recommendations on the subject.

THERE's one sure way to get yourself knocked on the head. Play some of your boyhood tricks on your wife.

For instance, my wife has a horrible time, I must admit, getting me out of bed every morning. She begs, threatens and finally storms. At this third stage I usually get up.

One morning this week, however, I slipped out of bed as soon as she called the first time. I arranged the pillows under the covers and waited.

She returned in a few minutes and threatened. "Get out of that bed," she screamed. "You make my life miserable every morning by causing so much trouble. If you're not up in five minutes you'll be sorry."

In five minutes she returned. "Get out of that bed," she screamed, and yanked at the covers. The silence that followed was enough to give a fellow the willies.

I stuck my head out of the bathroom door and said, "Hello dear." "Beast," she screamed and threw the pancake turner which she had carried from the kitchen. I didn't duck in time and the heavy handle caught me right between the eyes. A knot as big as an egg popped out.

"Serves you right," she said and stomped toward the kitchen. The people at the office think she hit me with a flat iron.

Thursday, December 10

Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God. (John 20:28.) Read John 20:28-29.

SOMETIME ago, while browsing in a bookstore, I discovered a book in which a series of portraits of the Christ appeared. I observed many striking contrasts in the figures painted in different ages and in different places. No two of the artists had interpreted Christ in the same way.

From the beginning of the Christian era, men have tried to interpret Him. A very early portrait by an unknown north African artist pictured Christ as a north African. Leonardo da Vinci pictured the Christ as a Florentine. El Greco pictured the Christ as a Spaniard. The same is true when men have tried to picture the Saviour. They have pictured Him as the highest and the best of their culture. So it should be.

But each of us—whether or not we are artists—pictures Christ in his own way. Yet we must do more than picture Him; we must make His life a part of ours, a part of our daily living.

Prayer

Dear Lord, help us to look at Thy face and behold the radiance of Thy countenance. Help us to follow Thee in faith, knowing that Thou hast beckoned us. Guide us this day and help us to be faithful to Thee, and pray, as Thou hast taught us to do, "Our Father...."

Thought For The Day
As did Thomas of old, I say of Christ that He is "My Lord and my God."

SPORTS FLASHES

The Sporting News by J. G. Taylor Spink

Alston Job Easy—

If Brook Stars Repeat

A great deal has been said about the spot upon which Walter Emons Alston, the veteran minor league manager, who has been elevated to the post of plotting the National League champion Brooklyn Dodgers, has been placed by the appointment.

In this "X-marks-the-spot" business, The Sporting News has joined the commentators—perhaps preceded many of them—by stressing the burning ambition of Walter Francis O'Malley, boss of the Brooks, for his club to win a World Series.

It is because of this O'Malley state of mind that it is alleged that Alston is on the spot if he wins the 1954 pennant and then loses the World Series—and that allegation is being made despite anything and everything that O'Malley said at the time he gave Alston the big job.

Now, about this Brooklyn team, whose excellence is considered so great that it "can't miss" winning the 1954 pennant. The Sporting News brings up the question whether it will be as good next year as it was in 1953—perhaps that is a fair question.

Can Roy Campanella repeat—or come close to repeating—his extraordinary 1953 performance of a high batting average, runs batted in and home runs? Can Carl Furillo approach the batting average that made him the league's batting champion in 1953? Can Billings Cox continue to be the league's best third baseman and match the highest batting average of his major league career?

Cox, Furillo, Hodges and Snider achieved the highest averages of their careers, points out The Sporting News, and their combined increase in 1953 over the previous season was 210 points. That's quite a mark to shoot at in 1954.

Indiana Favored to Repeat As Nation's Top Collegiate Hoop Team

Picking the nation's top collegiate basketball team in an early-season quiz is pretty much the same as it was selecting the top quietest last March—It's Indiana all the way, writes Joe Goldstein in The Sporting News.

The five starters, Don Schlundt, Bob Leonard, Charley Kraak, Dick Farley and Burke Scott, who annexed the NCAA crown for the Hoosiers, are back with the Bloomington Bombards, together with all but one of last season's reserves. As a result, Branch McCracken's club holds undisputed ranking as No. 1 in the nation.

TOYS CAN TEACH

Toys can teach youngsters to use their hands, coordinate mind and muscles, according to child development specialists at Iowa State College. Toys that teach body skills are push wagons, ladders, building blocks, jump ropes, swings; a teeter-totter, or rocking horse helps children learn to share and play with others. Toys that help a child with Duquesne and Kentucky providing the only serious challenge for top laurels.

Duquesne boasts two authentic All-Americans in 6-7 Dick Ricketta and 6-8 Jim Tucker. To go with this fabulous pair—both 20-point-average scorers and rebounders—is probably the best sophomore in the land, Sihugo Greene (6-3½), from Boys High of Brooklyn, the story points out. Starting with this powerful trio will be a clever soph, Mickey Winograd from Jersey City, and Lou Iezzi, junior letterman.

Three factors weigh heavily in all evaluations of the Kentucky Wildcats: 1. They have a super pair of hoopers in Frank Ramsey and Cliff Hagan. 2. The others are very good, particularly a sophomore, Jerry Bird, who is 6-4, and the younger players have benefited immeasurably from the year of specialized and extensive tutelage from Coach Adolph Rupp, while the Wildcats were sitting out a year's NCAA disciplinary suspension.

3. Rupp's and the Wildcats' indomitable desire to win, thereby taking out on their opponents what they considered an unjust and excessive punishment resulting from the misdeeds of former Wildcats in the basketball scandals of three years ago.

The top ten basketball clubs, according to The Sporting News: 1—Indiana; 2—Duquesne; 3—Kentucky; 4—Oklahoma A&M; 5—No. Carolina State; 6—Western Kentucky; 7—Kansas; 8—Holy Cross; 9—Minnesota; 10—California.

Random Picks

Tommy Glaviano probably will not be with the Philadelphia Phillies next season. "He is not in our plans," said George Fletcher, secretary of the club.... Andy Semick is rumored for a return to Philly—the only snag being the high price by the Cincinnati Reds for his services.... Southpaw Harry Perkowski of the Redjacks failed to pitch a complete game until June 30, when he beat Milwaukee 6 to 3, in his eighth start of the season. Over the full campaign, Perkowski pitched only seven complete games in 25 attempts, but won every one of them.... They say that the Phillies' Willie Jones is telling Philadelphia friends that he does not expect to be at his present address next spring. Reports indicate that he'll be peddled to the Giants, and the inference is that Al Dark presumably has been mentioned in a deal.

Watch for the Football Bowl Contest.

cymbals, and drums. The creative express his feelings as clappers, yon finds expression when a child finger-paints, molds clay, or pastes in a scrap book.

"When buying toys for children," says Mrs. DeCoteau, Home Demonstration Agent of Oxford County, "think of the educational value they have."

STATE PUBLICITY RECEIVES

WORLD-WIDE RESPONSE

Are you interested in swapping the use of your cottage at the lake or seashore next summer for a house in France? This intriguing idea was suggested to the Maine Publicity Bureau this week by a gentleman of property in Vichy and living in the Belgian Congo.

In his letter he says, "I'm interested in a vacation in Maine—please send me the booklet." Revealing a bit of the yankee trader, he goes on, "If you know of someone who wishes free disposition of a house in France during the summer, I can give one for exchange with a house or an apartment for a few days in Maine."

Even at this time of year when summer vacation time is the furthest thought in the minds of most people, the Maine Publicity Bureau receives more than 600 inquiries a week from all over the world by people making plans to come to Maine in '54.

This rather unusual letter from R. L. Keonig of the Belgian Congo is one of the requests for information and literature received last week. He is apparently sincere in his offer, so here may be an opportunity for some Maine family lucky enough to be in a position to accept Mr. Keonig's offer.

O Lord, be not far from me. —(Psalms 135: 22)

Every one of us must daily, in the depth of his soul, realize how weak and helpless we are on our mortal journey—and how confident and strong we can be through God's strength; ours for the asking, through His mercy. Through prayer and righteousness we will know His presence, about and within us, and be joyously blessed.

BILL OF RIGHTS ADOPTED 162 YEARS AGO

Governor Burton M. Cross has called attention to the fact that December 16 marks the 162nd anniversary of the adoption of our Bill of Rights - the first Ten Amendments of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Cross stated, "the principles expressed in these original ten Amendments of the Constitution offer a great hope in the cause of human freedom. The world-wide acceptance of these democratic principles would prove of utmost value toward a just and enduring peace among nations."

"Last year the entire world witnessed the people of the United States engaged in democracy's most prized possession - a free election."

"We are privileged with equality and free speech fear controversial and public issues."

"This is in extreme contrast to the tyranny of Communism and other 'isms'. We must be ever alert to our many liberties and ever ready to defend them."

Rev. Robert H. Harper

One Human Race.

Lesson for December 13: Acts 10: 2-15, 23-28, 34-35, 44-45.

Golden Text: Acts 10: 34-35.

At the first, the disciples pursued a course that would have caused Christianity to be only a Jewish sect that might have perished from the earth. They preached only to Jewish people and received only members of their race into their fellowship. But fortunately several events determined that Christianity would become a world religion.

Cornelius, a gentile of Caesarea had a vision of an angel who bade him send messengers to Joppa for Peter. Just before the arrival of the messengers, Peter had a vision of the unclean beasts, by which he was convinced that all men are subjects of saving grace. So he went readily with the messengers to Cornelius and preached with such effect that the Holy Spirit came upon gentiles.

Later, when Peter reported the matter to the council of the church in Jerusalem, the members of the council were duly impressed and rejoiced that the gentiles were being granted the opportunity of repentance and new life in Christ.

Thus the disciples were brought to realize that there is one world for Christianity to conquer. Racial differences most certainly exist. But in the gospel of Christ all men meet on a common level. All are in need of saving grace. Christians are in duty bound to bear the gospel to every man, no matter what his race may be.

WHEN you go out to select a Christmas tree, don't think of your pocketbook first. Consider first where you want the tree to be placed and what size it should be.

Get out your tape measure, too, before shopping for the tree. Many a splendid tree has been purchased, and then had to be hacked down to fit the size space you have available, and the results of cutting and trimming, generally speaking, are poor.

Trees should be placed away from avenues of traffic. They should never be in front of, or too close to a fireplace because both these are hazards to safety in the home.

Don't try to get a perfect tree as these are very rare. Do try to select one which tapers nicely and has a desirable spread. A single tip (at the top) is a good sign, and the tree should have branches tightly spaced with healthy, green needles.

To measure a tree for symmetry, spread the lowest branches. These should measure about half the tree's height.

Before buying a tree, shake it gently. If it sheds noticeably, you'll probably be disappointed in it. There should be no brown, dried up patches either, as they're difficult to cover or decorate.

Alder River Grange No. 145 held a regular meeting with Past Master Richard Carter in the chair. A letter was received from the Bethel Bazaar Committee asking us to send a delegate to their meeting, but as we received the letter too late to send one to their meeting, the matter was postponed and a delegate will be selected later to attend their next meeting. The Worthy Lecturer announced that the new soil conservation contest was open and hoped that all available boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 21 would enter as the prizes are well worth trying for. Mrs. Marguerite Bartlett, Worthy Secretary of the Grange, gave a very interesting report on her trip to State Grange and said that the Home and Community Welfare Committee were very glad to receive the five boxes of candy that she took with her. They had sold over $195 worth of candy at that time and more came in later. She told about the different awards that were made and spoke of the lovely quilt that was given to Mrs. Cross. She said that the reports of the various committees were very interesting and instructive and said that the installing of the new officers and the giving of the sixth degree were done beautifully.

HELL, YOU CAN DRIVE

Here is Maine humor, concise and laugh provoking, at its best. A small story by Barbara Graham Moore, it cleverly depicts the problems of an adolescent living in a world of mature people and learning to drive on automobile the hard way—too many teachers. The experience, all true, transpired at Kibbick Farm, Rumford Center. The drawings are by Elmer Coffin of the same town, and they supplement the story in the right way. "Hell, You Can Drive" will make a perfect gift for those with and those without a sense of humor.

This book will be on sale in Bethel, Rumford, and Lewiston. Dear Abby Tibbette

FIRE-GAME COMMISSIONER SEES DEER HERD IN GOOD CONDITION

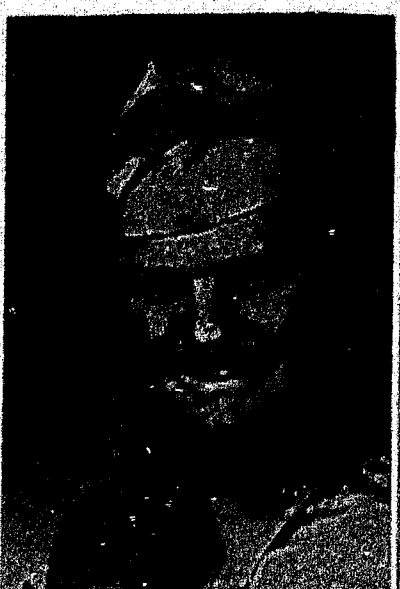

Commissioner Roland H. Cobb of the Department of Inland Fisheries and Game says that the deer kill for the 1953 season indicates that the Maine herd is in good condition and still thriving.

The total take of 38,000 compares very favorably with the kill for preceding years," the Commissioner stated, "and considering that last year's mild winter produced an excellent fawn crop, I know that the present herd could easily stand this year's cropping."

"This year's kill figures present a small triumph for the Department's game biologists who came under fire last year when the 1952 kill figures dropped approximately 3,000 from the year before. Critics at that time claimed that we were shooting into our breeding stock but our biologists pointed out that the 1952 figures were depressed to our records only by the two previous years, and considering the extremely dry and early hunting conditions constituted a normal yield."

Kill figures returned to the Department by warden supervisors throughout the State showed variations from the preceding year in several regions. Warden Division II, under Supervisor Charles Head of Augusta, taking in part of the central section of the State, showed the largest increase with a total of 4,800 deer tagged, 1,800 more than in the 1952 season. The kill in some areas showed a decrease from the '52 figures, but in the State as a whole, the kill was approximately 3,500 over the preceding year.

Commissioner Cobb pointed out that regional biologists of the Department's Game Division are presently checking on the deer herd and are attempting to determine the reasons behind the fluctuations in the various areas.
